to States which had lapsed during the current year and also during last year;

(b) the amount of grants lying unutilised for drought and employment generation programmes; and

(c) the names of such States which have asked for more funds even though they could not utilize the grants already given to them?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF RURAL DEVELOPMENT IN THE MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE (SHRI RAMANAND YADAV): (a) Under the major Rural Development Programmes of IRDP, RLEGP and NREP carry over balances from year to year is permissible The excess amount of carry on funds over and above the permissible ceiling of 20 per cent is adjusted against the subsequent year's allocation. Accordingly, there is no lapse of funds under these programmes. Under NREP and RLEGP however, foodgrains are also released in addition to the cash funds given to the States. During 1986-87, a quantity of 1612079 MTs of foodgrains was released to the States|UTs. under NREP and 1041240 MTs under RLEGP As per the bills received from the FCI so far, 1455527 MTs were lifted under NREP and 889411 MTs of foodgrains under RLEGP. The balance amount which was not lifted had thus lapsed.

As regards, DPAP another major rural development programme, Rs 26.25 lakhs in the case of Bihar and Rs 20.24 lakhs in the case of West Bengal are reported to have lapsed during the year 1986-87. The position about the lapse of grant during the current year will be known only at the end of the year.

(b) The unutilised resources (cash funds and foodgrains) at the end of the year 1986-87 under NREP and RLEGP were Rs. 165.27 crores and 159.61 crores respectively.

(c) Under NREP and RLEGP additional Central assistance over and above the allocations is released to the States| UTs. on the basis of better performance and availability of funds on account of savings. During 1986-87 additional funds under NREP and RLEGP were given to the States of Andhra Pradesh, Bihar, Gujarat, Haryana, Jammu & Kashmir, Mizoram, Nagaland, Punjab, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu and Uttar Pradesh and UTs. of A & N Islands, Goa, Daman & Diu and Pondicherry. During the current year funds have been released out of likely savings to Gujarat Govt. for release to Distt. of Kutch and Jamnagar under RLEGP. States of Rajasthan & Uttar Pradesh and UTs. of A & N Islands and Pondicherry have asked for additional grants under NREP although they have not utilised fully the resources given upto the end of September, 1987 Rajasthan State has asked for additional funds under DPAP in view of severe drought conditions in the State.
